CONSENT FOR TRAVEL IMMUNIZATIONS

California Institute of Technology
Pasadena, California 91125

Immunizations for international travel are provided to protect against certain diseases to which you may be exposed and to satisfy entry requirements of various nations. In many instances these requirements are to prevent your bringing a disease into the country.

The diseases against which you may need protection are Cholera, Hepatitis-Type A ("Infectious Hepatitis"), Smallpox, Typhoid Fever. (Plague and Yellow Fever immunizations are available at Pasadena Health Department on Wednesdays between 2 & 4, by appointment.)

TWO WEEKS

Cholera vaccine is made with killed organisms. It is about 50% effective but will usually provide at least partial protection. It does not prevent transmission of the disease. Side effects may include discomfort at the injection site for 1-2 days, mild fever, headache and tiredness.

Immune Serum Globulin contains antibodies from the blood of people who have had Type A Hepatitis. It is 80%-90% effective in preventing the disease when given prior to exposure. The protection lasts for 3-6 months. You may experience discomfort at the injection site.

Smallpox vaccine is made with a modified live virus of a similar disease. It provides a high degree of protection following a successful "take" which persists for at least three years in healthy persons. There are risks which include encephalitis (brain fever) or a severe generalized reaction occurring once per 1,000,000 vaccinations, a generalized skin eruption occurring once per 100,000 vaccinations or very rarely a fatal reaction. You may expect redness, itching, swelling and one or more small blisters or pustules at the site of vaccination.

Typhoid Fever vaccine is made with killed organisms. It is 70%-90% effective for up to 3 years. Side effects usually include fever which may require aspirin; headache; tiredness and muscle discomfort; and, soreness at the injection site.

CONSENT

I have read the above statement regarding immunizations for international travel and understand the risks and benefits of these vaccines. I request that I be given the appropriate immunization for (circle appropriate diseases) Cholera Hepatitis-Type A Smallpox Typhoid Fever

SUNDAY MARCH 16
Left Magherfelt very early and returned the rental car to Hertz at airport - no mention of Max's dent in the front bumper. Left on 10.30 flight to London - at London airport sent last minute postcards and then caught British Airways flight BA3 to Delhi on time at 2.45pm. Uneventful flight of 8½ hours - passed over Tehran - met Dr. Peter Akers (U.K.) on flight - he was on his way to a conference at Pooree - said Sarina would be there.
Monday, MARCH 17
St. Patrick's day! Arrived in Delhi more or less on time at 4.00am - took time to clear passport control, baggage and customs - at customs I met Sir Charles Ferreira(?) who was also on his way to the Oberoi Intercontinental hotel so we got a taxi together - I had to pay for it since he had not yet obtained rupees - he repaid me by letter the next morning - On the cab ride I noted small, chaos and crazy driving. At Oberoi found a nice hotel and went straight to bed.
Did not wake until 1.30pm - up - lunch and took taxi to Red Fort - quite interesting but not like subsequent places - paid guide - then returned to taxi and went to HIMAYUN'S TOMB - also only quite interesting. At both places was accosted by many street vendors - still learning how to say no - but learning fast. Taxi had to be pushed started at HIMAYUN'S tomb - then back to Oberoi for meal. Went for stroll outside afterwards - shoe shine boy with portable box approached me. Somehow managed to squirt mud on my shoes - don't know quite how he did it without my seeing - then insisted on cleaning them - managed to break laces - then charged me about $1.50 for new laces + cleaning job - quite a con job. Evening I went to Indian dancing on roof of Oberoi - most interesting and impressive. -

Tried to go to sleep but to no avail - stayed awake all night. Finally got up at 6.00 a.m. and had breakfast. Checked in two large bags with the left luggage and took taxi to airport - just my briefcase along. Caught Indian Airlines flight IC 407 - supposed to leave at 8.05 AM but did not leave till 9.00 AM - short flight to AGRA was full. At Agra took taxi to MUGHAL Sheraton hotel - best hotel I stayed in - very attractive - all marble inside with nice rooms. Incidentally I met Bob and Helen LICHTMANN (?) from Connecticut on flight - he works (is vice president) of Union Carbide Agricultural Division - also staying at MUGHAL - had lunch with them later.

After coffee I set off for the TAJ MAHAL - magnificent - spent about 2 hours there - then by scooter cab to Red Fort - impressive also - finally back to hotel for late lunch - pottered around a bit and then went to sleep about 4.30 PM.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19

Woke about 2.00 AM - dozed and read until 5 - then up to watch dawn come up from balcony with view of TAJ - smell and sounds of call to worship remarkable - Mother India most apparent - then breakfast, check out and off to airport. Flight IC 407 which was supposed to go to Khajuraho instead landed at VARANASI (BENARES) first and then flew back to Khajuraho almost empty. Arrived in Khajuraho at about 11.00 AM - middle of nowhere - primitive airport. Tried to arrange flight out in the afternoon but was informed I was No. 11 on the waiting list. However took taxi to main temple complex. Well kept. Marvellous temples - well worth the effort of getting to this out-of-the-way place. The temples are covered in carvings of human at work, war and play. They are totally uninhibited sexually. Sculptures depicted the most vivid and explicit scenes of intercourse not only with humans. There are about five major temples, all on raised platforms and many minor temples. Took a great many pictures and spent about 2 hours there. Then taxi to another group of temples - the Eastern group - which included JAIN temples - not so interesting. Then to a hotel for lunch (late) and finally to airport to try and get on the only plane leaving Khajuraho that day in westerly direction (only this one was the one I came in on). After great hassle everyone at the last minute made flight IC 408 (another 737 as all Indian Airlines flights were) left at about 4.15 PM and landed at Delhi about 6.00 PM. Taxi directly to Oberoi where I picked up my luggage, had dinner and went to sleep about 9.00 PM.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20

~~WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19~~

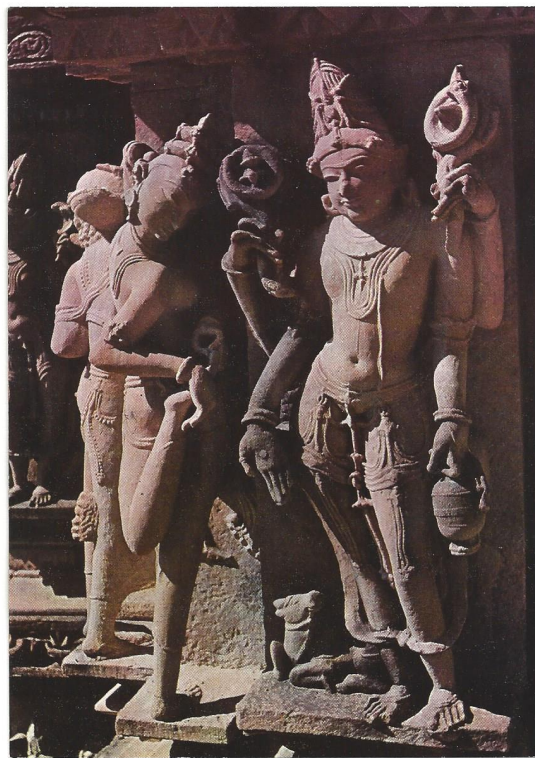

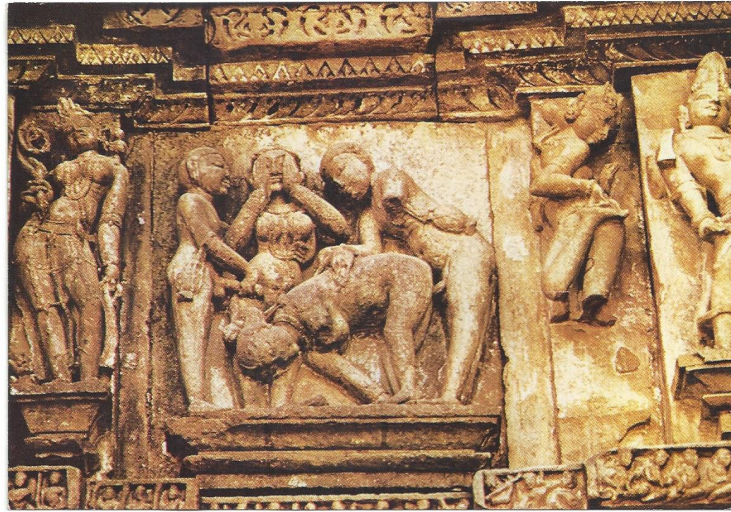

Up quickly at about 4.00 AM, breakfast, checked out and took taxi to airport. Flight 491 was full! No seats left the man said - adamant. At the last minute after much pleading, I presented my U.N. Passport and he finally relented - I was only one to manage it. Flight 491 landed in Jaipur, Udaipur and then as usual it went off-course - landed in Bombay before backtracking to Aurangabad. Arrived about 11.30 AM and went to the RAMA International hotel - O.K. - checked in and had something to eat. Then off to ELLORA by taxi. Fantastic temples carved out of a mountain - some 34 in number - visited the main ones - ~~No. 16, 21~~ Number 10, 12 (Buddhist), 16, 21 (Hindu) and 32 (JAIN). No. 16 - the Kailasa Temple is ~~also~~ absolutely amazing. It was hot but I spent about 3 hours there - w. ~~was~~ tired afterwards. Then taxi back to Aurangabad. Taxi-driver took me by a cloth weaving cottage industry - very interesting - bought a shawl. Then back to hotel - had a swim - arranged my airline ticket - No. 1 on "waiting list" - dinner and sleep by about 9.00pm.

~~THURSD~~

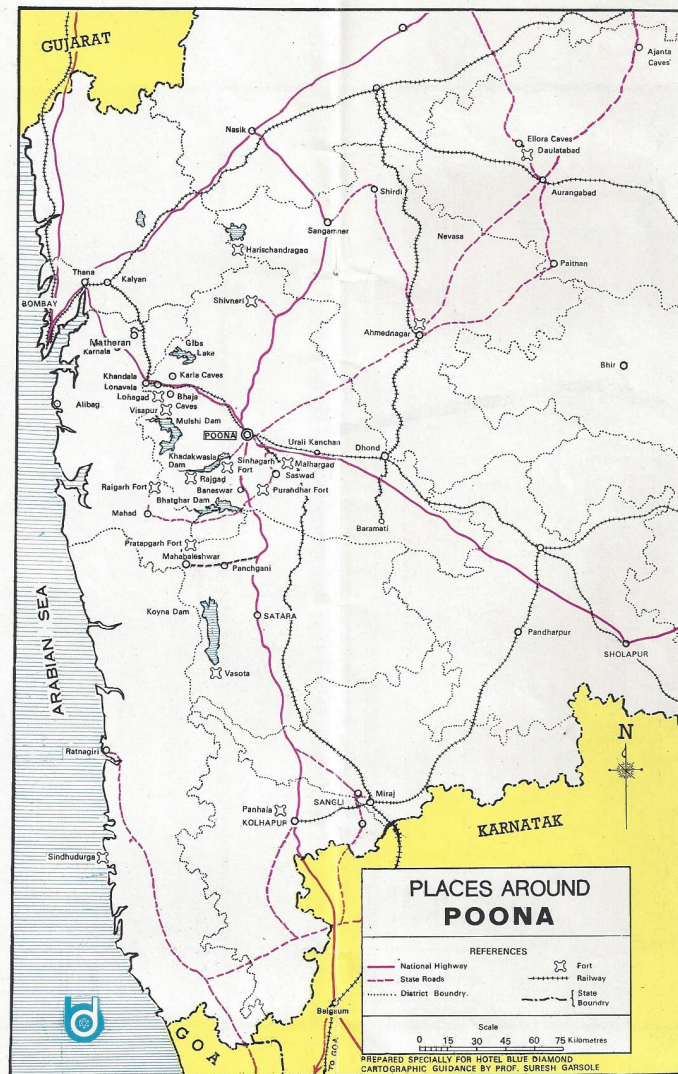

FRIDAY, MARCH 21

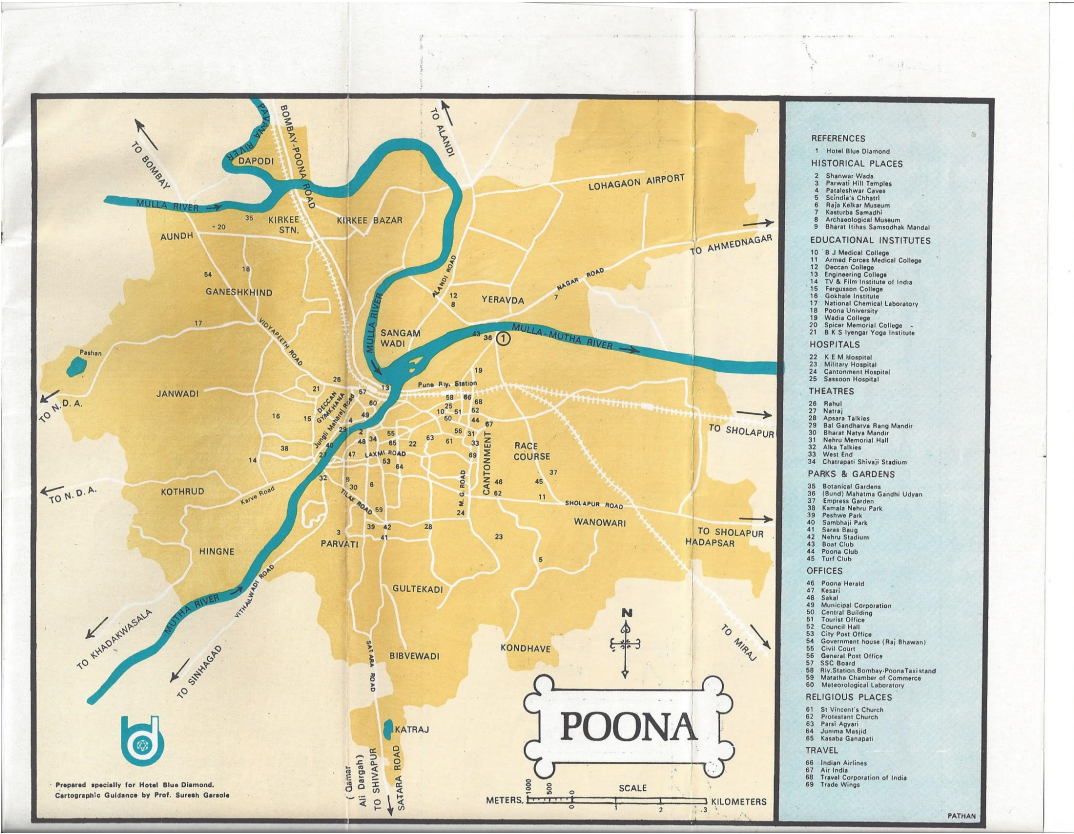

Up about 6.00am - breakfast - then off to airport - no trouble getting on flight to Bombay - IC 491 - left about 11.00 and got to Bombay airport about 11.30. Bombay airport - first on approach to landing one has the most vivid view of great expanses of the most awful slums - then the airport is ~~chaos~~ chaotic - about 45 min. before luggage arrives. Then I took a taxi to downtown Bombay to the British Airways office and changed my return flights to April 11. Then a taxi to Victoria Railway Station - the Station is filled with people - people sleeping everywhere - terrible stinks. After much trouble I finally managed to get a first-class ticket to Pune on the Deccan Queen and found a place to sit down on the platform to wait out the 2½ hours before the train left. Porter was good to me - managed to get me a reserved seat and they place me in the train. Train was fairly comfortable - left at 5.20 pm. Train journey was quite pleasant - climbed up onto the Deccan and arrived in Pune about 8.30 pm.

Dear Mr. Treggi:

I have now successfully completed my mission as a UN. Consultant to CWPRS, Pune, India (IND-150-3-042-03-X). A written report on my mission was completed during my final days at CWPRS and was approved by the people there. I enclose a copy for you.

I am now writing to you to request that you expedite payment to me of the agreed $5250.00 fee for this mission. I was somewhat disheartened by the fact that a formal contract was not sent to my home during my absence. However, I trust that you will expedite the agreement as spelled out in the telegram as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,

Christopher E. Brennen

Dear Ms. Halkias:

I have now completed my mission as a UaN. Consultant to Central Water & Power Research Station in Pune, India
(IND-150-3-042-03-X).

I therefore enclose a claim for incidental travel expenses with receipts. In addition to these expenses I expect to receive per diem for the travel time. Since the travel time from Pasadena to Pune exceeds 30 hours I expect to receive 3 days per diem for the outgoing journey, but only 2 days for the return journey since only a brief stopover was made during the return. Hence the additional per diem would be 5 days.

Finally, I also enclose the ticket stubs (two). These tickets were provided to me by the U.N.

Please mail the remuneration for expenses to me at the above address.

Yours sincerely,

Christopher E. Brennan
